

André Bouchard Typed List of Name Presented to the Court

This typed list which André Bouchard presented the Magistrate in order to force Marlene Légaré, his sister, to undergo a psychiatric evaluation in order to get bail. The assessment was all favourable. Had André been called, or any of the other deceived siblings, Marlene would never have come out of jail or mental facility which is André's way of dealing with all those who oppose him.

André started off in January 2006 trying to commit his father and has not ceased trying since then.

Currently André Bouchard, Lynda Staub and Claire Demery in their affidavits to the court in 2009, have requested their father be made a Ward of the Public Trustee, in order that André can remove the two caveats on the property so that he does not have to honour his Life Estate Agreement or balance of the mortgage he owes his father which he never registered on titled in 2002!

In calling some of the people listed on "André's list", these individuals were not aware their names were used in the court as referenced in André's request for a psychiatric evaluation of his sister who he put in jails with the numerous charges he instigated in each and every case.

Individuals Who Deny Having Consented to Being Put On André's List

Sheldon Légaré adamantly denies that he was ever contacted or gave his consent.

Lionel Bouchard, at that time, had been lied to by André, similar as were all the siblings and was also being administered psychotropic drugs which were unnecessary as advised by the nurse at the Grace Hospital and which André and Lynda filled a prescription that made Lionel lethargic, etc., has no recollection of allowing his name to stand on this list.

Suzie Waldner empathically denies authorizing her name to be used!

Gary Porteous's wife Marlene also denies that Gary gave his permission and was surprised to hear this.

Mariette Leclerc, of the St. Eustache Manor, confirms that she was never asked to put her name on the list.

Bruce Jamieson, Mental Health Worker at the Portage Hospital, have been unable to contact him, but doubt he would have given his permission. Mr. Jamieson declared Lionel Bouchard competent on several occasions, despite André trying to force him to deem his father incompetent – last time August 2008 days before Lionel being granted a possession order for his home of over 50 years!

Michael Clark, André's former lawyer, November 2010, denied having participated in this list as well.

Magistrate:

This will confirm that as a family we urgently request your assistance in helping our sister, (Marlene Legaré obtain psychiatric help.

Re: Psychiatric Listing Presented to the Magistrate by Andy Bouchard

I, Lionel Bouchard, of Elie, Manitoba, did not authorize Andy Bouchard to use my name on a typed list which he presented to the Courts in order to have my daughter Marlene Légaré undergo a psychiatric assessment.

In fact, Andy had me undergo several psychiatric evaluations in attempts to commit me after my accident in 2006 in order to force me to withdraw the Life Estate Agreement which I have had with Andy since 2002. After my fall, Andy refused to honour our agreement and evicted me out of my home of over fifty years.

Andy, along with his sisters Lynda Staub and Claire Demery, commenced their campaign of vicious attacks and intercepting any contact with Marlene in order to silence and discredit her when she came to support me in my right to live the remainder of my days in my humble homestead of over fifty years.

To Whom It May Concern,

I, Susie Waldner, do hereby state the following:

- in the early spring of 3006, Andy Bouchard called me from his lawyer's office in Portage La Prairie and requested that I sign a letter intended to "keep his sister Marlene Légaré out of Manitoba" which I refused.
- immediately after Lionel Bouchard was taken to his home from the hospital by Marlene Légaré, Andy told me that Marlene "had taken all Lionel's money" a fact I later learned was untrue and the reason I went along with Andy, Lynda and Claire at the onset until I discovered they had deceived me.
- I have come to learn that my name was on a typed list drawn up by Andy Bouchard requesting that his sister, Marlene, undergo a psychiatric evaluation presented to a Judge. There was absolutely no merit to the request as the majority of individuals on this fabricated list had no idea their names were being used, including Andy's own lawyer Michael Clark. Several others were unaware of the seriousness of the deceit perpetrated by Andy Bouchard. Andy designed this in order to continue his quest to kick his father out of his home, this despite a life estate agreement he had with his father whereby I was present and heard discussed. In my opinion, Andy in not registering the Agreement and the mortgage, was, once again, taking advantage of his father financially as he had done over the years that I was involved in Lionel's life.
- During the years I was at the farm, I was privy to hearing Andy scream at his father out of total disrespect for him and string of broken promises.
- Also, at that time, for years I cleaned Lionel's house and cut his grass, etc. There is absolutely no truth to the statement that Andy made in his affidavit twice stating that his father was in habit of going to the nuisance ground to collect junk and that some rooms were rendered useless due to the clutter. All these statements are totally false. When I was no longer there, his roommates at the time had no issues with clutter as that was not the case. I myself attended on a regular basis and saw no evidence of what Andy is claiming, in fact quite to the contrary, the place was always clean.

To Who It May Concern,

Re: Andy Bouchard's Undated Document Addressed to the Magistrate

In calling Gary & Marlene Porteous, neighbours to Lionel Bouchard,
I was informed that Gary Porteous did not authorize his name to stand on a list originating from Andy Bouchard against Marlene Légaré demanding Marlene undergo a psychiatric assessment.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN,

I, Mariette Leclerc, of #11 - 1 Allarie St. S., St. Eustache, hereby declare that I was unaware and have never given my permission to include my name on a "typed list" drawn up by Andy Bouchard requesting that his sister Marlene Légaré undergo a psychiatric evaluation which Andy presented to a Magistrate and most likely the RCMP as well as lawyers, which I have come to learn about recently.

I am aghast and livid that my name was used in this manner and I go on record as stating that I object vehemently to having been used as one of Andy's pawns similar to others.

I met Marlene Légaré briefly once in February 2006, when she visited me in my room at the St. Eustache Manor. That has been my only contact with her and that is why I am so upset my name was used in such a serious fashion to question her faculties; rather, it is Andy's faculties which are in question in my opinion for having done such a despicable thing to me and others on that list!

The visit was prompted after Andy put up a "No Trespass" order on his father's door, as well as a heavy chain installed inside his father's room, which Manitoba Housing ordered be removed immediately when they learned of his actions which totally upset the residents in the Manor.

Andy's actions were to ensure that his sister not have any contact with her father whatsoever. In fact, Andy and his siblings and others took turns staying in Lionel's room, and overnight as well.

Lionel was to have no contact with anyone who could assist him in ensuring that his rights to his home, documented in numerous agreements he had with his son and daughters to return to his home in Elie, could and would be enforced. At first, it appears Lionel Bouchard was being "escorted" everywhere he went by family or friends of Andy's choosing. As it turns out, his children never had any intentions of allowing him to return to his home - despite their verbal and written promises!

I have known Andy's father, Lionel Bouchard, all my life and do not believe that he in February 2006 he moved into the Manor in St. Eustache where I live of his own free will and I go on record as stating that I disapprove of the way Andy's son and his daughters have treated him, evicting him out of his home of over 50 years where he raised his nine children, working hard all his life on the grader and on his farm in Elie, Manitoba.

Sincerely,

Mariette Leclerc

Re: Andy Bouchard's Psychiatric Assessment List

This will serve to confirm our conversation of November 19, 2010, whereby you stated that you did not consent, nor were you aware that Andy Bouchard had typed your name as part of an 18-name list of individuals requesting that, I, his sister, Marlene Légaré, undergo a psychiatric evaluation.

In addition, this serves to confirm that you and I have never met, nor spoken, until now.

This document was presented in court to deceive the judicial system at the time I had flown in from B.C. in January 2006 to rescue my father from being committed by Andy Bouchard after Andy's call to me advising me of his intentions of which I did not agree, nor did I feel committal was warranted for a concussion - especially in the early stages of our 82 year old father's recovery.

This typed list was entered into evidence in Court and provided to me by Hope Buset of the firm Brodsky & Co. At that time I was the only family member who stood up for our father as Andy had manipulated his siblings to ensure our father never return to his home of 50 years. Andy did this in order to avoid honouring the written life estate agreement he had in place with his father since 2002.

Furthermore, Andy, Lynda Staub and Claire Demery diverted our mother from cancer treatment that was saving her life, only to take her to Mexico a third world country to operate on her needlessly only to come home and die but not before Lynda changed her mother's will and transferred her property into her own name, joint with her stepfather without either her mother or step-father's knowledge. Our stepfather later provided additional blank, presigned transfer documents, Lynda Staub, by virtue of her employment at Winnipeg Land Titles had signed for future use.

I understand from David Bradley of Wilder & Wilder, that Andy Bouchard was overheard coaching his father Lionel Bouchard, over the telephone, to transfer the personal injury file Andy himself had opened to your firm. Furthermore, Andy Bouchard demanded to get paid the first $2,500 from his father's personal injury claim for driving back and forth to the hospital to visit his father.

I note that you also drew up several "No Trespass Orders" at Andy's request against myself on February 14, 2006, this after Andy and his two sisters were unsuccessful in getting emergency Peace Bonds against myself. The purpose of these orders was an attempt to keep me out of the Province of Manitoba, and in so doing, to prevent me from visiting my father in his home in Elie and to escort my mother back to the Houston, Texas Clinic which boasts of a 93% cure rate which I had taken her to in 2005. A second order was posted outside Lionel Bouchard's door at the St. Eustache Manor. The third "No Trespass" was drafted to include Andy Bouchard's home in Portage La Prairie.
